The Legend of King Arthur

King Arthur was a legendary king in the mythology of Great Britain. He lived in the medieval times, in his famous castle, Camelot. He possessed a sword known as Excalibur, given to him by the Lady in the Lake.

King Arthur defended his kingdom from the Anglo-Saxons. He won several battles, and had many homes. However, his favourite home was in Camelot. One of the most famous tales of King Arthur is one where he pulled a sword out of a stone, making him King of the Britons.

The Round Table was a table used by King Arthur and his knights, and sometimes the Wizard Merlin in the legends about him. The Round Table was in Camelot, the castle where King Arthur and his knights lived. In the legends, they met at the table to talk about the kingdom, and about what adventures and quests they could go on. This is why people called them 'The Knights of the Round Table'
